OFFICERS ELECTED

By Ohio Valley Trades and Labor
Assembly Sunday Afternoon.

ALL WERE BY ACCLAMATION

President Bauer, who was re-elected, in his annual address, urged the cultivation of relations that would elevate "the man with the hoe"—Telephone Franchise Indorsement Tabled—Other Business.

The annual election of officers was the principal item of business at the Trades Assembly meeting yesterday afternoon. There was a goodly number of delegates present.

Credentials were received from the following delegates:

Local No. 104, Horsehoers—Robert Keys.
Local No. 148, Miners—John Donahue, Peter Yochum and Jesse Stimmel.
Local 156, Retail Clerks—C. R. May, M. E. Tracy, G. W. Greig.

Local No. 5028, Hodcarriers—Gabriel Jackson, J. Ed Brown, Wm. Asbury.
Local No. 84, Musicians—Albert Zimmerman.
Local No. 4054, Hodcarriers of Martin's Ferry—James Branch.

Local No. 9, Glassworkers—John McGinty, E. W. Gillies, George Dean, John Nau.
Local No. 53, Brewery Workers—Samuel Kindelberger, John White and Herman Dupke.

Garfield union, No. 1, Stogiemakers—Chas. F. Stine, Henry James, Henry Templeton, Chris Hoffman, G. A. Dittman, F. D. Thomas, James T. Herker and Henry Kress.

Friendship lodge, No. 2, Iron and Steel Workers—S. H. Engle, Jerry D. O'Leary and Herman Knoke.

Local No. 64, Theatrical Employees—Harry G. Howard, William Wise and Joseph Dixon.

Local No. 79, Printers—Ned Sims, I. N. Wykoff, A. Carenbauer.

Local No. 181, Tailors of Steubenville—William Doepeke and Edward Wild.

Local No. 6890, Expressmen and Drivers—A. W. Rader, James Hawley and Frank Wendel.

Local No. 103, Street Railway Employees—J. J. Byrne, W. F. Welch and Peter Stanton.

Crescent lodge No. 8, Iron and Steel Workers—Louis Hayes, Edward King and Frank Smith.

Local No. 3, Carpenters—Ben Connelly, Thomas Brysack and A. L. Bauer.

Local No. 28, Pottery—Michael Duffy, John Harney and Harry Simcox.

Local No. 59, Glassworkers—Henry Frazier.

After the delegates had been obligated there followed the reception of committee reports. The assembly approved of the rental of the hall from the Messrs. Wilhelm for another year, price $300, which is an increase of $75.

President A. L. Bauer submitted an address, in keeping with the annual custom. It was comparatively brief, and covered the few months Mr. Bauer has been president. He urged the assembly to cultivate closer relations with kindred bodies. Said he: "I believe the usefulness of this assembly can be widened if we would fraternize more with delegates from other bodies who, like ourselves, are working to better the condition of the people. It would bring out different ideas of the question for the benefit of the laboring classes. Cleveland, Ohio, has such an organization, and in its discussions there figure newspaper men, clergymen and men who are in business. By getting the ideas of different classes of society it brings an influence to bear on certain legislation, and it is a step toward the millennium, which we are looking forward to, when labor will be a pleasure—when the man with the hoe is equal to the man in the pulpit; when the man with the spade will level all men in life as well as the grave; when the necessities of life for one person are felt to be the same as that of another."

Secretary F. D. Thomas reported that the membership of the assembly was up to the standard and finances in good condition.

The annual election of officers was next taken up. There were no contests, all being elected by acclamation, as follows:

President—A. L. Bauer.
Vice president—J. J. Byrne.
Secretary—F. D. Thomas.
Treasurer—L. W. Selvey.

Trustees—E. W. Gillies, John Donahue and Jerry O'Leary.

Finance committee—Thomas Hecker, Herman Knoke and M. E. Tracy.

Delegate Gillies introduced a resolution asking the assembly's indorsement of the application for franchise from council by an independent telephone company. The resolution was laid on the table indefinitely.

In answer to a communication from a local merchant the assembly had instituted no action adverse to him, and the secretary was instructed to run down the rumor, which was said to have originated in Powell lodge.

A letter was received from another merchant stating that a conference was desired between the merchants and the assembly's executive board. In the discussion on another topic the communication was lost sight of until after adjournment had occurred.

NAVIGATION ON THE OHIO

Was Resumed Yesterday, the Departures Including the Virginia, Leroy and Lorens—The River is Now Falling.

Navigation was resumed yesterday in the upper Ohio river, after a suspension of over two weeks on account of the ice. The ice gorged at several places, including Wheeling, on New Year's day, and did not break up until last Thursday morning. Since then, until yesterday, the ice coming down from the Allegheny has been so heavy that the packets were unable to breast it successfully.

The first boat to put in her appearance was the Leroy, which got in from Clarksburg, Saturday night, and left at 8 o'clock yesterday morning with the biggest freight trip she ever handled, for Matamoras and way landings.

The Virginia arrived from Pittsburgh loaded to the guards, Sunday, at 5:30 p. m., and got away for Cincinnati an hour later. 'One of her clerks, Will Barringer, joined the boat here. The big packet had about all the freight she could handle when leaving this port.

The Lorens was due to pass down for Zanesville last night.

The Leroy will return this afternoon and will leave between 3:30 p. m. and 9 p. m. for Clarksburg, in her regular trade.

Captain Kraft, of the H. K. Bedford, wired from Marietta last night that his boat would be here this evening, to clear for Parkersburg and way landings Tuesday at 11 a. m.

The Keystone State passed Middleport yesterday at 2 p. m., but on account of the heavy ice she has to encounter, it is not thought she will be here before Tuesday morning, and the Queen City, which started from Cincinnati Saturday evening, will be close on the Keystone's heels.

The Elsie will be here Tuesday night, to leave Wednesday at 11 a. m., for Matamoras.

The towboat Sam Clark passed up with empties at noon. The Sam Brown left Wheeling run with her tow, during the morning, but the ice was so heavy that she went to the bank at the Island shore at 11 a. m., and was still there last night. Her inability to follow the Clark was on account of her tow being made up of square-built coal boats, while the Clark's tow was made up of barges.

The towboat Joseph B. Williams, harbored above Martin's Ferry during the ice embargo, has departed for Pittsburgh with her tow of empties.

The captain of the John W. Alles telephoned the Wheeling wharfboat for river news yesterday, and on receipt of the latest developments he stated that the Alles and the Belle McGowan would start for Pittsburgh with their tows at once.

The resumption of several of the Wheeling packets is not yet announced. The City of Pittsburgh may resume in the Louisville-Pittsburgh trade February 1, according to the announcement of her owners, but it would not be surprising if her new boilers are not completed at that time. It is said the Pittsburgh will likely take another party to New Orleans and its Mardi Gras next month.

The rise reached its top-notch yesterday morning, 16 feet 4 inches. It remained stationary until noon, when the decline commenced, and at 6 p. m. the stage was 15 feet 3 inches. Weather, clear and colder.

At 2:30 o'clock this morning the Sam Brown was arranging to leave with her tow in tandem style—one barge after another behind her, and she will easily get away this morning.

Another Coal Shipment.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 14.—A conservative estimate of the coal in the harbor awaiting shipment south this morning placed the amount at eight million bushels. Of this amount 1,295,000 bushels were started down the river to-day, every available towboat here being pressed into the service.

The following boats, all with full tows, were reported as having passed Davis Island dam: Pacific No. 2, Cruiser, Robert McKinley, Clifton, Fred Wilson, James Moren, John Moren, Charley Hook, Mariner and Wilmot. The larger portion of the coal is destined for Louisville and New Orleans.

The strike of marine firemen inaugurated Saturday does not seem to have inconvenienced the owners in any appreciable degree, as the harbor to-night is clear of boats, all being manned somehow. Secretary Kelly, of the Firemen's Association, says every boat that went out had a crippled crew, some being as high as four firemen short. He claims that the firemen on the fleet coming up will all leave their boats and refuse to go south again unless the scale is signed.

River Telegrams.

OIL CITY—River 4 feet 4 inches and falling. Weather, cool and light rain.

WARREN—River 3 feet. Weather, raining and cold.

MORGANTOWN—River 11 feet 6 inches and falling. Weather, clear and cool.

BROWNVILLE—River 8 feet 6 inches and falling.

PITTSBURGH—River 10.1 feet and falling. Weather, clear and cool.

STUBENVILLE—River 15 feet 7 inches and falling. Weather, clear and cold.

River filled with ice. Passed down—Virginia and Lorens. When the Lorens passed most of her buckets were broken off by the ice.

PARKERSBURG—Ohio river 14 feet 3 inches and rising. Weather, clear; mercury 34. The ice is thawing out. Valley Belle passed down. Due down—Virginia. Little Kanawha is rising. Locals began regular traffic this morning.

Threatened Coal Famine.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligence.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—Inability to secure bituminous coal in sufficient quantities is necessitating the shutting down of some of the manufacturing concerns in the Schuylkill Valley. At Birdsboro the plant of the E. & G. Brooke Iron Company has been shut down for several days. The Reading Iron Company is practically without coal, and unless it can be secured, a temporary shut down must follow. From other points throughout the valley come reports of coal shortages for manufacturing plants.

Society.

What bids fair to eclipse the brilliancy of all entertainments for a similar purpose will be the loan exhibition, to be given during Dewey week for the benefit of the City Hospital. This unique affair will consist of a display of curios and relics at the Hawley building, at the corner of Main and Tenth streets. The exhibits will be loaned, and Mr. Hawley has generously donated the use of his immense storeroom. Older citizens will remember the great sanitary fair during the civil war, and it is the intention of the promoters to make the loan exhibition as notable.

Already the committee has the promise of many rare war relics and curios, old paintings, antique articles related to American or foreign history, souvenirs and curiosities, collections of old coins, books and pottery—the whole forming a combination not easily duplicated. Not as many articles as desired have been secured and the committee would be pleased to receive more, guaranteeing to pay all express charges and return the articles in as good condition as when received.

The fair will open on February 19 and continue the entire week, and one of the many features will be the visit to it of Admiral and Mrs. Dewey. About 250 people will be on the various sub-committees, and the executive committee is composed as follows: Henry M. Russell, chairman; Mrs. W. F. Butler, Mrs. Wm. F. Stifel, Mrs. Margaret Dalzell, Mrs. Joseph Metcalf, Mrs. Howard Hazlett, Dr. R. M. Baird, Rev. Joseph Speers and Dr. Frank J. Le Moyné Hupp.

Is Wheeling, as an artistic and musical-loving community, to receive a setback this week? This is the question being asked by the gentlemen who became the guarantors of the financial success of the concert to-morrow evening in the Opera House by the famous Pittsburgh Orchestra, Victor Herbert, conductor. The plain truth is that the sale of tickets has not come up to expectations, and unless to-day's and to-morrow's sales are quite heavy, the concert may prove a losing venture from the financial point, although the orchestra's quality and completeness as a musical organization can be denied by none. The programme announced for the Wheeling engagement is one of such attractiveness that a packed house ought to greet Mr. Herbert and his company of artists.

The Wheeling members of the Sons of the Revolution met this evening at the office of Mr. Alfred Paul, for the purpose of discussing details of the arrangements for the state society's annual dinner on the night of February 22, when Admiral Dewey will be the guest of honor. It has been proposed that the Daughters of the Revolution be invited to the function, and the proposition will be discussed this evening.

ASSESSORS' REPORTS

Of the Re-Valuation of Property.

Thirteen Counties Heard From. Special Dispatch to the Intelligence.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 14.—The reports of the assessors appointed under the last state re-assessment law to re-value the property in the various counties, are now coming in steadily. Thus far thirteen have been received.

These thirteen reports are from the counties of Boone, Braxton, Cabell, Calhoun, Greenbrier, Hampshire, Jefferson, Morgan, McDowell, Webster and Taylor, and one district each from Lincoln and Ohio. McDowell was among the first to report.

The law allows until April 1 for these reports to be turned in. When they are completed two copies are placed on file in the office of the county clerk, from which the report comes, and a third is sent to the auditor, by whom

REV. D. W. HOWARD.

The Newly Installed Rector of St. Matthew's Preaches an Interesting Sermon.

An interesting sermon was delivered at St. Matthew's P. E. Church last night by the recently installed rector, Rev. David W. Howard, to a large congregation. He took for his text the words of the Apostle Paul: "We are laborers together with God; we are God's husbandry."

"Man was made in God's image," said Rev. Mr. Howard, "and he became a living soul when the Creator instilled into his nostrils the breath of life. When given a soul he became a steward of the talents with which he was endowed, and he must render an account of his stewardship to the Giver."

"When it pleases God to call a man from this earth-house," said the speaker, "death overlook only the outward semblance, and not the real image was interred in the clay of the cemetery. Our bodies are merely temples, and while it was urgent that great attention should be given to the exercise and cultivation of all our talents and endowments, about the soul we should have the most concern; for it was the soul, the spirit-life that God breathed into our nostrils. It was a serious matter for reflection that the talents must be put to the most advantage. Before the judgment seat God would ask: 'What of thy stewardship?' And it would not be sufficient to reply that only one weak talent had been given, which the possessor had not thought would have been of much service to God."

The speaker insisted that now was the accepted time. To be a Christian, he took it, was to be Christ-like; to follow closely in the Master's footsteps. A man could not attain to His perfection, but he should strive to do as near as possible. Nor was it necessary to be a Christian to constantly be forcing one's ideas on the world. But at all times the Christian should refrain from the wrong and work for the right. And he should remember that he may not be here to-morrow or the next day, and that he knows not when the summons will come. He should work and pray.

IN TRUE WESTERN STYLE.

Single-Handed a Man Holds Up Cashiers of Two Restaurants.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 14.—In true western fashion, a lone robber, masked and armed, cleaned out two restaurants in the center of the city at 6 o'clock this morning, under the glare of an electric light. In Lewis' restaurant, at 1210 Walnut street, he pointed his pistol at the cashier and robbed the cash register, while he kept his revolver in plain view of two customers eating nearby. He went across the street to the restaurant of Robert McClintock, covered the cashier and commanded two waiters and three customers to hold up their hands. They complied promptly, and the robber
